

State of the Art Cosmetic and Reconstructive Anatomy Course and Cadaver Laboratory – AGENDA

DRAFT 8.31.11

December 3- 4, 2011 – Miami, FL

Co-Directors: Jonathan L. Cook, MD and Stephen H. Mandy, MD

As a sponsor accredited by the ACCME, ASDS must ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all its educational activities. ASDS is committed to providing dermatologic surgeon learners with fair and balanced continuing medical education.

This educational symposium designed to provide a comprehensive review of advanced techniques for treatments in cosmetic and reconstructive dermatologic surgery. Thought leaders in the fields of anatomy and dermatologic surgery will share their expertise on procedures and treatments for optimal primary and post-reconstructive cosmetic outcomes. This course provides essential knowledge for dermatologic surgeons who treat cancer patients and perform reconstructive and cosmetic surgery. This interactive live CME activity combines lecture, discussion, and a hands-on cadaver lab.

Course Learning Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, participants should be able to:

- -identify and locate the critical nerves and arteries of the face as they relate to cosmetic and reconstructive procedures
- -describe facial anatomy and facial planes as they relate to the positioning of injectable implants for facial rejuvenation and reconstructive treatments
- -describe the aesthetics of facial aging and develop evidence-based treatment strategies to maximize aesthetic outcomes

ACGME/ABMS DESIRABLE PHYSICIAN ATTRIBUTES/COMPETENCIES:

The ASDS acknowledges the need for CME content to be designed within the context of desirable physician attributes as expressed by the ACGME/ABMS Core Competencies and the Dermatology Residency Committee. Aligned with Criterion # 6 of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education's Provider Requirements for CME, the ASDS has developed the content of this educational activity to address the ACGME/ABMS Core Competencies according to the following list:

Patient Care

That is compassionate, appropriate and effective for the treatment of health problems and the promotion of health.

Practice-based Learning and Improvement

That involves investigation and evaluation of their own patient care, appraisal and assimilation of scientific evidence and improvement in patient care.

Medical Knowledge

About established and evolving biomedical, clinical and cognate (e.g. epidemiological and social behavior) sciences and the application of this knowledge to patient care.

Interpersonal & Communication Skills

That result in effective information exchange and teaming with patients, their families and other health professionals.

Professionalism

As manifested through a commitment to carry out professional responsibilities, adherence to ethical principles and sensitivity to a diverse patient population.

Systems-based Practice

As manifested by actions that demonstrate an awareness of and responsiveness to the larger context and system for health care and the ability to effectively call on system resources to provide care that is optimal value.
