Description

The most comprehensive cosmetic symposium for dermatology residents is back in 2021 as a high-yield online symposium to provide expert instruction in the latest cosmetic procedures and guidance to prepare residents for real-world scenarios. Leading ASDS experts will discuss the science, treatment indications, available therapies and techniques, as well as management of complications. Emphasis will be placed on patient safety and how to obtain optimal cosmetic outcomes.

Learning Objectives

Following this activity, participants should be able to:

- ♦ Relate the principles of facial symmetry, aesthetics and aging and the effect of available aesthetic therapies and procedures for each.
- ♦ Identify anatomic danger zones as they pertain to aesthetic procedures and describe techniques to minimize possible complications and maximize outcomes.
- ♦ Describe the available therapies used by dermatologists for wrinkles, volume loss, skin tightening, skin rejuvenation and resurfacing, submental fullness, facial and body contouring, and hair loss.
