

2023 ASDS Masters Circuit: Energy-Based Devices and Injectables

Saturday, May 6 – Sunday, May 7, 2023
Main Line Center for Laser Surgery | 32 Parking Plaza, Suite 200 | Ardmore, PA

The ASDS exclusive chairside Masters Circuit is back, on location at a leading dermatologic surgery practice!

The American Society for Dermatologic Surgery (ASDS) invites you to participate and support dermatologic surgeons for our Masters Circuit: Energy-Based Devices and Injectables course. This unique educational activity will provide the opportunity to highlight your company's products and services during chairside live patient demonstrations at a practice location, in a procedure space where your product(s) will be used exclusively, face-to-face networking, and additional branding benefits. The non-CME format of this activity will allow for education-focused interaction with faculty and attendees, along with additional branding benefits.

GOLD LEVEL PARTNER – $5,000

- One energy-based device or one cosmetic injectables product line highlighted and utilized for live patient demonstrations: four 30-minute small group chairside demonstrations.
- One representative present during demonstrations in procedure room dedicated exclusively to one device or injectables product line and utilized at discretion of faculty performing procedure(s): four 30-minute small group chairside demonstrations.
- Networking opportunities with faculty and attendees during scheduled breaks / meals.
- Opportunity to supply product / literature in bags for attendees.

Additional Branding Benefits

- Company's logo and acknowledgement in the course program, as well as on the ASDS Learn online learning center course page.
- Quarter page ad in the ASDS Currents, the exclusive ASDS member magazine.
